

Non-Fiction Summer Reading Project

Your Name: _____ Period: _____

Title of Book: _____

Author's Name: _____

About the Author: (Part 1) What is one interesting fact about the author of this book?

About the Author: (Part 2) Is the author someone you would want to meet/befriend? Why or why not?

Imaginary Interview: Imagine that you are responsible for interviewing the author of this book. Make a list of ten questions you would ask him or her. These questions should be "journalistic" in nature—NOT questions like "May I have your autograph?" or "What is your favorite color?" Questions should relate to the book in some way.

An appropriate sample question would be something like the following: "What inspired you to write this book?"

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____
7. _____
8. _____
9. _____
10. _____

Short Summary: Briefly explain the author's purpose (why the author wrote the book) and the topic of the book.

Recent/Relevant? When was this book written?
Is the information still relevant?

Style and Structure: How does the author arrange the information in this book? Is it arranged by topic? Is it arranged in chronological order? Does the author use personal stories? Explain the structure in sentence form.

5 "Quotable Quotes":

Find 5 quotes in this book that you think are worth remembering. Write them down exactly as they appear in the book. Include page numbers.

1. _____

_____ pg # _____

2. _____

_____ pg # _____

3. _____

_____ pg # _____

4. _____

_____ pg # _____

5. _____

_____ pg # _____

5 "Lessons to Learn":

Find 5 "lessons" that a reader could learn from reading this book. Re-write these in your own words. Include the page number.

1. _____

_____ pg # _____

2. _____

_____ pg # _____

3. _____

_____ pg # _____

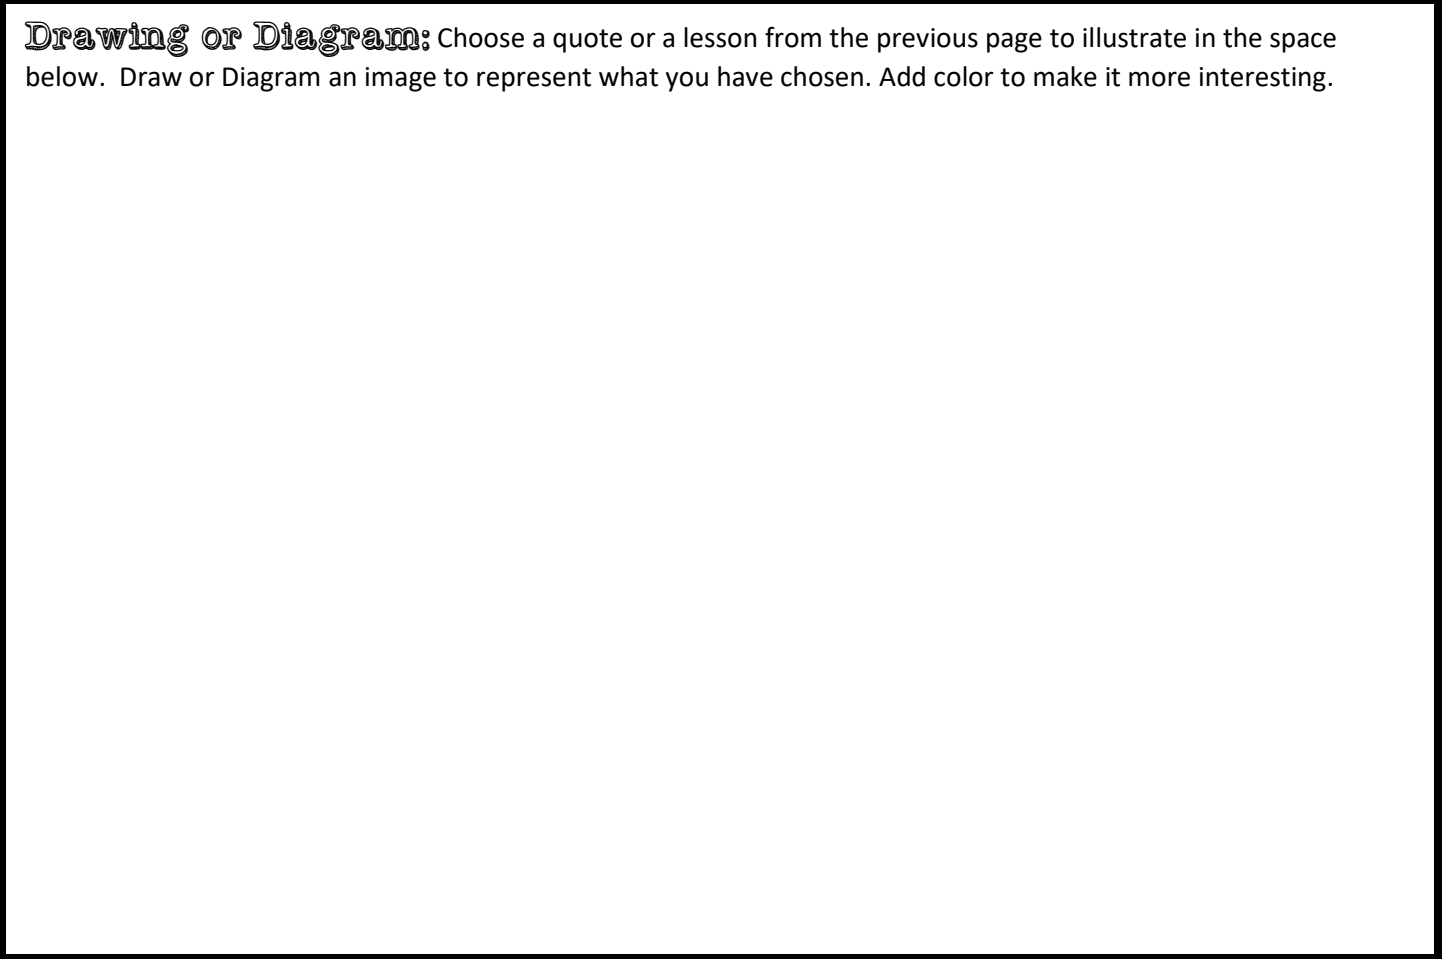

4. _____

_____ pg # _____

5. _____

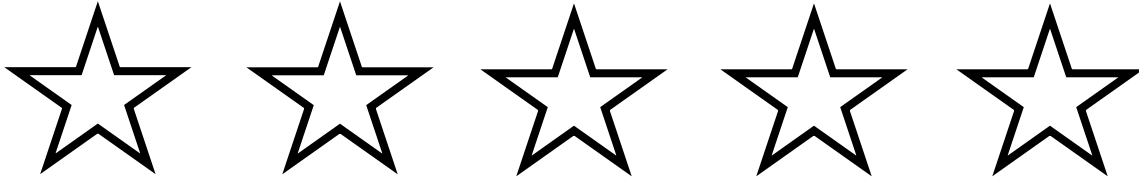

_____ pg # _____

Drawing or Diagram: Choose a quote or a lesson from the previous page to illustrate in the space below. Draw or Diagram an image to represent what you have chosen. Add color to make it more interesting.

Rating and Recommendation:

Color in the number of stars that you would give this book:

Explain your rating:

Who would you recommend read this book? Why?
